

BIS 190 : Special Topics in Information Systems

This course is designed to teach students about current industry driven technologies and new technologies as they appear.

Credits 3